

Debbie Filkins

I have been a Block Island resident since 1983 with a vibrant career in Residential Building and Design. I have enjoyed three decades of owning and moving large wooden boats from the waters of New England, up and down the Intracoastal Waterway and throughout the Bahamas. In 2009 I bought my first Nikon and joined a “Profundo Journeys” trip to Italy. I caught the photo travel bug and I have now visited Cuba, Peru, Thailand, Nepal, Tibet and Myanmar. In spite of my architectural background, photographing people is my passion.
