

Michael Dwares, an eight year resident of Portsmouth, R.I., began his interest in photography four years ago. He enjoys taking a creative approach to digital landscape imagery. Michael's photos take the viewer to familiar locations and then allows the enhancement of technology to provide the image with new perspective. He lives in Portsmouth with his wife and two children and enjoys the many scenic venues Rhode Island has to offer. Michael is a current member, and exhibits with, Island photography Group, Portsmouth Arts Guild, and Newport Photo guild.